

A BREAKFAST NETWORK designed to help local professionals and small business owners operate more efficiently and create a vibrant local economy got underway last Wednesday at Celie's Diner with 20 businesses attending the first meeting of the "North-South Lansing Network."

No.-So. Lansing Network Takes Off

The first breakfast meeting of the North-South Lansing Network, designed to help Lansing's small business owners support each other's economic development, went off without a hitch early last Wednesday morning at Celie's Diner with twenty business owners present.

"There are no dues, no officers and no fancy 'mission statement'," said organizer Marie Almon, owner of Equine Episodes - a No. Lansing media consulting service for the horse industry. "It's simply an opportunity for local business owners to meet, share experiences and help one another prosper."

Participants exchanged business cards and traded information on common business opportunities and challenges.

Present were representatives from Nature Episodes, Lansing Funeral Home, Perspective Services, Reynolds Custom Cabinets, David Frahm, Dagra Software, ReMax Real Estate, Weidenhammer Printers, Lansing Community News, Bakers Acres, Cel-Tech, JAMEX, Quinlan & O'Rourke, JCM Tires & Batteries, Boynton Financial Group, Celie's, Finger Lakes Fashion Accessories, Telecomp Services, and Equine Episodes.

The group will meet again on Wednesday, March 12 at 7:30 am. The location will be announced.
