

Lansing School District News

Lansing High's "Music Man" Plays To Sell-Out Crowds

It is said that playwright Meredith Willson wrote "The Music Man" as a tribute to his home state of Iowa and its traditional community values. If so, he would have been proud to see the cooperation and support that transformed this 30-something year old musical into a community-bonding event.

Not everyone saw the school band members waiting patiently for several hours each evening prior to their glorious, grand finale entrance, but they did and we say,

"Thank you."

Cindy Howell, Ann Short and Kristin Maloney had the optimism and courage to meld elementary, middle and high school students into a unified group of players and proved that inter-school plays could work. "Bravo."

Thanks to the faculty and parents who took weeks to construct the sets and needed only a couple of hours after the final curtain to strike everything and leave a clean stage.

"Thank you," to the Lansing Theater

Boosters who sold ads, manned the booths and willingly took on each one of the 3,214 little tasks (but who's counting) that needed to be done.

"Thank you," to Lansing's seniors who came to the theater by bus for Wednesday's early dress rehearsal.

"Thank you," to area businesses that sponsored the program and otherwise supported our young men and women.

And then there were the unplanned events that make every performance a "keep on your toes" experience, such as Wednesday evening's tumbled tree or Thursday night's slightly over-cooked popcorn medley. Players and audience alike handled these "details" with aplomb.

So even though our onstage lovers, Harold Hill and Marian Paroo, found bliss, the real message is that despite shifts in time and location, Lansing, NY is every bit as much a unified community as Meredith Willson could ever have hoped for his native Iowa. "Well done!" everyone.

Photo: RAM SEETHARAM

Photo: RAM SEETHARAM

Photo: RAM SEETHARAM

Photo: RAM SEETHARAM

Not Just Tile

HARDWOOD FLOORING

THE TILE HOUSE
312 Fourth Street
Ithaca, NY 14850
607 / 272-8453

LANSING SCHOOL LUNCH MENU
(All Meals Include Fruit, Vegetables, Juice & Milk)
	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
March 17-21	Hot Dog on Bun Scallop Potatoes	Chicken Nuggets w/ Rice & Gravy	Grilled Cheese Sandwich	Cheese Pizza Bologna Sandwich	Meat Burrito Tuna Sub
March 24-28	Pizza Grill Hot Dog on Bun	Field To Table Hamburger on Bun	Taco Salad Cheese Bagel	Cheese Pizza Ham Sub	NO SCHOOL !!

The Lansing School Lunch Menu is Presented By: This Space Is Available For Sponsorship